Why this talk & workshop

“The curious paradox is that when I accept myself as I am, then I can change”.

– C. Rogers

Improve individual and team performance and relationships by increasing EQ (emotional intelligence) and understanding the diversity of different personalities.

The Personal Feedback Report (PFR) provides a detailed behavioural reports with layers of depth drawn from the Five Lens Integrated Assessment Tool offering multidimensional feedback which enables individuals to understand self and others.

The PFR is available as a standard or premium report with the differences highlighted below.
