MEDIA KIT

SWARNER EXPEDITIONS, LLC

Sean Swarner is a philanthropist, an author, and keynote speaker. He is a two-time terminal-cancer survivor who has dedicated his life to helping others reach their full potential. Sean created CancerClimber with his brother in 2001, a nonprofit organization that pays for and travels with cancer survivors to climb Mount Kilimanjaro. Sean's passion for climbing and adventure blossomed after his first climb to the top of Everest. Since then, he has climbed all seven summits, and skied to both the North and South Poles, making him the first cancer survivor to complete the Explorers Grand Slam. From executives of Fortune 500 companies, such as IBM, to students at Willard High School and NFL players on the New York Giants, his countless leadership panels, inspirational keynotes, and book series 7 Summits to Success have inspired and won the hearts of millions to redefine their own impossible.

THE CREATIVE
MODEL

CREATIVITY COMES FIRST

Sean's unique presentation style transports you on a tremendous experience from Midwestern teen to adventure hero. Embedding lessons and tips throughout his relatable journey, you are taken on an adventure of conflict, climax, resolution, and completion of a lofty goal. What Sean struggles through and learns along the way, he shares in great detail, bringing you with him on every step. From crawling six feet from the hospital bed to the bathroom, to climbing to the top of the world, Sean shares how to accomplish near impossible feats with real-life applications. Discovering personal intrinsic inspiration creates a lifetime of motivation. Everyone in life and in work must decide to take their first step toward accomplishing their goals, and Sean undoubtably helps you find and develop the courage on your personal path to lasting success.
